About the Presenter:

Kelly Johnson (BFA, MA, AMS 6-9) seeks to guide humans on a journey to slow down and creatively reconnect with their natural world through the arts and gardening. An artist, author, nature journaling guide, Montessorian, and children's garden educator in Neptune Beach, Florida, Kelly spends her days: creating art, developing nature connection resources for educators, teaching nature journaling courses, and sparking wonder in the garden with community children. She brings her lifetime of creative expression and gardening experience to Wings, Worms, and Wonder: the online home of her book, blog, workshops, nature journaling courses, and garden consultations. Kelly aims to help and inspire humans to creatively connect with the natural world right outside their doors through the arts and gardening. For more creative nature connection fun, visit wingswormsandwonder.com to check out her books Wings, Worms, and Wonder: A Guide for Creatively Integrating Gardening and Outdoor Learning Into Children's Lives and The Wings, Worms, and Wonder 12 Month Art & Nature Journal: Mindfully Color, Sketch, & Relax Your Way Into Nature, her nature journaling tutorials and ecourses, and follow her activity packed blog.
